

Parma - The Duomo

Seminar room

Accommodation at the Palazzo della Rosa Prati

INTERNATIONAL SEMINAR FOR U.S. LAW PROFESSORS AND JUDGES

Current Developments in European Law

VI EDITION

June 18-26, 2012 - Parma, Italy

LIMITED ADMISSION (10 PARTICIPANTS) - CLE ACCREDITATION APPROVED FOR 24 SUBSTANTIVE HOURS

The Parma Seminar offers an in-depth discussion of current trends on European law and policy. It is specifically designed to suit the needs of Law School Faculties and U.S. judges and lawyers. Activities are arranged in order to allow sufficient time for independent research and leisure activities to the participants.

A number of seminar sessions (4 hours each) from a comparative perspective will be presented and led by distinguished faculties of the Host Institution and by distinguished guests from other leading European Universities and Institutions. Participants will be given the opportunity to hear criminal and civil cases in the local court and to link with local academics, lawyers and judges. The Seminar will also be an opportunity to establish a more structured partnership between the University of Parma and the Law Schools or Institutions to which the participants belong.

SEMINAR SESSIONS

Current Developments in Human Rights and Criminal Justice

Andrew Ashworth (Vinerian Professor of English Law, All Souls College, University of Oxford)

Current Developments in European Criminal Procedure and Evidence

Stefano Maffei (Ph. D. Oxford, Lecturer in Criminal Procedure, University of Parma)

Current Developments in European Constitutional Law

Ignacio Borrajo Iniesta (Constitutional Court, Spain)

Current Developments in European Union Law

Andreas Pottakis (Ph. D. Oxford, Deputy Director of the Academy of European Public Law)

Current Developments in Civil Procedure and Litigation

Michele Taruffo (Professor of Civil Procedure, University of Pavia)

Current Developments in European Criminal Law

Alberto Cadoppi (Professor of Criminal Law, University of Parma)

PARTICIPATION FEE

1.350 EUROS, payable to the University of Parma.

CONTACT & INFORMATION PACKAGE

Applicants from the U.S. are encouraged to contact Prof. David Sonenshein (Temple Law School - Tel. 215 204 8958 - david.sonenshein@temple.edu).

Applicants from other Countries may contact Dott. Stefano Maffei (University of Parma - stefano.maffei@unipr.it).

A detailed information package is available with details on the academic and social programme, accommodation, travel costs, events in the Parma area and feedback from participants in the prior editions of the Seminar.

UNIVERSITÀ DEGLI STUDI
DI PARMA

